Responsibility.

Two men in this community the other day discussed the effect of the weight of responsibility, and the idea seemed to possess one that responsibility detracts from the pleasures and comforts of life. We are not prepared to go into the subject, and are perhaps less competent to discuss it than the gentlemen referred to, but it is so plain that one who runs may read the fact that the man or woman who feels responsibility and knows the weight of it is a person to be relied upon, because a normal man cannot feel the weight of responsibility without making some effort to bear it; and on the other hand the man who feels not the weight of responsibility, nor realizes its import to himself, is likely to fail to fulfill his obligations to his family, the community in which he lives, and his country.

Now that the end of Congress approaches, it has been suggested that such stars in the Chautauqua course as Senator LaFollette and Speaker Clark, and lesser lights like Mr. Leugot of Wisconsin, will still have an opportunity to recoup their political fortunes before the ides of next December, when the great law-making body of the nation gathers again at the capitol, and incidentally add a few ducats to their finances during the recess.

Democratic Leader Underwood called Mr. Bryan a liar on the floor of the National House of Representatives the other day, and it is said he was loudly applauded by his colleagues. Regardless of the controversy and the prominence of these two public men, we must say that it has always seemed to us that when a man resorted to "liar" he had little or nothing to support his case.

The real public-spirited citizen does not require that an enterprise which he is asked to support with time or money immediately and directly add to his profits. That it is for the benefit and general welfare of the community is enough for him. Nor does he gauge his contribution by that of some old grouch who gives a dollar when he ought to give five, and complains of that.

Much is being made out of the case of a St. Paul man who took three drinks of whisky daily and lived to be 100 years old. But Senator Vest, commenting on a similar case in Missouri years ago, said: "But that isn't any argument for whisky. If that man had left whisky alone they might have had to shoot him on Judgment Day." (Okla.) News Capital.

It is unfortunate for the State of Kentucky that a man of the great ability of Henry Watterson, the veteran editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, should be lined up against the anti-liquor forces. With all his brilliant powers he is bound to lose, because he is on the wrong side.

When the solons have devised a tariff scheme that will give universal satisfaction, they may confidently enter upon the task of regulating weather conditions to suit everybody.

In the minds of some men the unionizing of capital is all right and the unionizing of labor is all wrong.

Rumor insists that Senator LaFollette will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for President. The Senator has many qualities that make him popular with the people. He has always been aligned with the people against the great monopolies, and his part in the railroad-rate legislation fight in Congress a few years ago is still fresh in the memory of all. He is one of the men in the Senate who is always counted upon to take an active and aggressive part on all questions of importance which come up for action in that body.

The other day down in Enid, Okla., a unique funeral ceremony was held. Nearly the whole town turned out and joined the funeral procession. An immense wooden hammer on a large four-wheel float headed the parade. At an appointed place the hammer was burned to ashes and the ashes buried in the court house park. All this was intended to indicate that the day for the existence of "knockers" in Enid was past, and from now on every citizen of the town is to boost.

Dame Fashion threatens to cut another slice of goods out of ladies' skirts. As it is now it takes about twice as much material to make an ordinary man a pair of trousers as it does to make his wife a skirt. No wonder so many women are discarding their own for male attire.

With wonderful regularity the report is circulated that Col. Bryan has decided to give up politics to enter the ministry.

Lamar Democrat: "Don't make the mistake of assigning some little commission to a man who has nothing to do, upon the assumption that he has plenty of time. No one is quite so busy as a loafer." No one can gainsay that proposition for it is all too true that the work of all organizations is done by the persons in them who have the most to do.

Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast that the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tracy, Calif. "I have ever found." They make rich, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 50c at Webb Bros.

Mr. Merchant, what are you going to do in the advertising line to get your share of the extra trade during Fair week?

DEWEY.

With the Temperature 100 degrees Sunday, forty were present at Sunday school at Salem. One couple walking 2 1/2 miles and quite a number walking 2 miles. One member was 90 yrs old and said she did not mind the heat.

Miss Edith Wall spent a week at Matthews' and is this week visiting Mrs. Alma Moulten.

The excessive heat Friday killed a mule for Mr. Crum and a horse for Mr. Bender, and Mr. Alexander had a horse drop in the harness but it did not die.

Hoyt Turner was surprised Saturday by 28 of his friends coming to help him celebrate his eleventh birthday. He received presents and cards and Mrs. Turner treated to ice cream and cake. The children had a fine time.

Anything is good enough for country children" is not true in Dewey if the school house is a test. The walls are all papered with gilt paper and the house all painted and the yard all cleaned of weeds and trash.

The whooping cough is making a prolonged visit on Noel Wasson, Alma Greenwood and Helen Stith.

Dan Goff has left Dewey for Colorado, where he spends the winter.

Mrs. John Thompson and Mrs. Anna Moulten were out Wednesday from Jasper calling on Mrs. Matthews.

Mr. Jim Goff of Carytown had an alto singer arrive at his home on Thursday. He has a full quartette now to make life happy.

Sunday dinners were as follows. Mr. W. A. Flowers of Mount Moriah entertained Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Estey, Tom Flowers and Vernon Matthews.

Andrew Gresham entertained Mr. Bob Gresham and family.

The Salem Aid Society made $18. at Mr. Grissom's sale, and feel very happy over it. Many thanks to those who helped.

FARMERS UNION.

Mr. Frank Thacker and wife visited Mr. and Mrs. George Swift in Lamar Sunday.

Allen Miller and wife visited the former's parents Sunday.

William Duckett entertained quite a number to ice cream Saturday night. Those present were Mr. Woodrow and family, Norris Crum and wife, Mr. Goodrich and wife, Wm. Selsor and family, Mrs. Duckett's three brothers and a gentleman from Salem.

James Selsor has rented his place to Mr. Tunnell.

Accused of Stealing.

E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Me., boldly accuses Bucklen's Arnica Salve of stealing—the sting from burns or scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds—the distress from boils or piles. "It steals away bruises, sprains and injuries of their terror," he says, "as a healing remedy its equal don't exist." Only 25c at Webb Bros.

The News has for years had a large circulation in and around Jasper, and there is no other one advertising medium that reaches so large a number of readers as this paper. Not only is the News read by more people than any other one paper, but the number is being added to daily.

Missouri State Fair.

The eleventh annual exhibition of the Missouri state fair will be held on the State fair grounds at Sedalia, September 30 to Oct. 6. The members of the State board of agriculture are the directors of the state fair and they have made an extra effort this year to surpass all former years in the way of exhibits and entertainment.

The live stock industry of Missouri has made a wonderful growth since the State fair was established, and a reasonable supposition is that the Missouri state fair has had much influence in the development of the live stock industry during the last ten years for it is at the State fair where the best herds in the country are shown and it is there where the farmer and breeder gets his inspiration to breed better live stock. The State fair is an educational institution that reaches people who are past school age as well as the young folks.

The Lamar Democrat seems to delight in asking unanswerable questions. The latest is "Why will a woman hold a parasol the size of a pie plate over a hat as big as a dish pan?"

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Dr. J. Cheney's Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Dr. J. Cheney's Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that they fail to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
